

Report on Graduate Attributes Facilitated by the College

The aim of our college is to impart a holistic education to its students which facilitates their all round development. It grooms them as individuals who are endowed with critical thinking skills, intellectual curiosity, analytical reasoning, effective communication, and leadership and teamwork skills. It moulds them into individuals who possess research and enquiry skills, apart from personal attributes like self awareness, self confidence and flexibility.

The college structures its curriculum delivery process in such a way that the research aptitude and enquiry skills of its students are honed to a great extent. The college also aims to inculcate among its students the core values of integrity, morality, social responsibility, cross cultural empathy and compassion.

The above mentioned qualities commonly known as Graduate Attributes were facilitated by the college through its various curricular, co- curricular and extracurricular/ extension activities which were undertaken by the students during the period when they were pursuing a UG / PG program of their choice in the college.

- Curricular: Through a comprehensive perusal of their course content, the students gained a comprehensive knowledge of their subject, by undertaking project work/field work their experiential learning was enriched, it also developed their team work skills. .By opting for dissertations at P G level, the research profile of the student was greatly refined. On one hand they were made aware of good academic research practices, they were also sensitized about the need to refrain from dubious practices like plagiarism, the ethical implications of plagiarism and the academic / technical fallouts in the form of penal action.

The sterling performance by the students in academics (the pass percentage between 85-95%) clearly indicates that the college facilitated the attainment of graduate attributes in the form of students' attainment of Course Outcomes and Program Outcomes.

- Co curricular: Participation in co curricular activities like Debate and Speech competition, Quizzes, Essay writing, writing for the college magazine , participation in Literature Festivals/ Science Exhibitions developed many qualities in them like self confidence, communication skills , awareness about the current happenings in society , creativity and the spirit of team work. Our students won prizes in Debate and Speech competitions at state and national level. They celebrated several national, international days and commemorative events which made them politically aware and sensitized them towards their duties and responsibilities as citizens.
- Extra curricular: Participation in different types of cultural activities like singing, playing some instrument, enacting a role in a play, mimicry enhanced their creativity and enabled them to realize their hidden talents. The college students have regularly won at University level and national level cultural events.
- Similarly participation in sports has made them aware of the importance of keeping fit; they also internalized the qualities of team work, co operation, fast reflexes and an urge to excel in sports.
